Help the Railroads Help the Merchants

—by using your car, passenger or commercial, more and more to help relieve the pressure on the nation's railroads, —for the railroads are strained to the limit today to move man and merchandise.

The one way to keep your automobile ready for your service day and night is to be sure that you have dependable tires.

United States 'Usco' Tread is not only the dependable, efficient, always-ready tire,

—it is the tire of long mileage—of low mileage cost,
—the tire of masterful anti-skid service.

Put United States 'Usco' Treads on your car—make comparisons.

BRODHEAD

News reached us recently that our Livingston friend had tendered his resignation as an employee of the Louisville & Nashville

Railroad Co., to take effect Jan. 1st, at which time he accepts a position as Deputy Police Judge of his home town under Dr. R. G. Webb, who recently defeated Judge Frank Dees. Now this is a very important position, we imagine, and no doubt there is lots of honor in holding a position of this kind and especially so when serving under a good republican like the doctor.—Dr.

and Mrs. W. F. Carter were in Louisville Wednesday of last week shopping. Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Carter accompanied them to the city and from there they went to Shelby to spend a few weeks with relatives.—B. T. Young and sons, James Tandy and George McCracken, left for Milton, Trimble County, early Wednesday morning to spend a few days at the old home of Mr. Young. He will spend the time while there hunting Trimble county quails. This is his first visit back home since locating here two years ago.—Mrs. Green Bryant, daughter of Lee Coffey, of this place, died at her home in Farriston Ky., Monday supposedly of heart trouble, death being sudden. Her remains were buried at Corbin Tuesday afternoon. Among those attending from here were Mrs. Alfred Dean, Mrs. Jesse Proctor, Arthur, Forest, and Justice Coffey, sisters and brothers of the deceased, K. J. Smith and his son and daughter, Charles and Miss Annie Belle Smith.—Among the new list of officers named by Uncle Sam under date of last Monday Brodhead ranked second in the list of Captains, Louisville first. The names of two of our boys, Allen and James H. Barnett, Jr. appear on the list, and our folks are justly proud of these boys for many reasons, the thing that stand out boldly that we like to mention of them is that when they go after any things they land it, whether it be an Army Captain or to rank first in a graduating class they simply do things, and we are proud that they call old Brodhead home.—Constable B. A. Riddle arrested Ben Moberly, a negro, charged with horse stealing in Garrard county, a few days ago after chasing him for three days. He found him about one o'clock in the morning quietly sleeping before a good fire in a woodland near the Jackson County line, and turned him over to Jailer Ross at Lancaster. Moberly had been arrested on this charge a few days previously and landed in the jail at Lancaster, and had made his escape by removing about one hundred brick from under a window of the jail, leaving an opening that a two hundred pound man could have easily gone thru. Mr. Riddle got on his trail and never let up until he landed him and will receive a reward of fifty dollars for his faithful services.—Rev. A. J. Pike, of this place, attended the funeral of Rev. Chas Carmical at Mt. Vernon Tuesday.—Miss Annie Roberts, daughter of Mrs. Loutisha Roberts, died at the home of her mother, on Main Street, at 1:00 o'clock a. m. Wednesday, after a confining illness of several months. Miss Annie had been a cripple since early childhood and for many years could not walk a step, and yet this great affliction did not seem to check her energy. For a number of years she worked in the Tobacco Factory of R. S. Martin, and since giving up this work she was always busy about the home, doing all kinds of house work, even doing the washing for all the family. She bore her affliction without a murmur and was always in the best of spirits and seemingly enjoyed life as much as those under more favorable conditions. If the people of this town put forth their energy to the extent that Miss Annie always did we would have a much better town. She was a devout member of the Baptist church and when able never missed a service, besides she attended services at the other churches of the town. She was a faithful christian and exemplified her noble christian character every day. She looked after the welfare of the sick where she was able to go and will be missed by the many friends she had at her command. Her remains were laid to rest in the Christian Church cemetery Thursday after services at the Baptist church by the Rev. A. J. Pike.

She will be missed by every one who knew her, but she leaves a splendid example for all to follow. We extend to those of her relation who survive much sympathy.—Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Smith were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hiatt Wednesday.—Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Durham, and son, Master Austin and Miss Clyde Watson, were down from Mt. Vernon and spent Thanksgiving with the family of J. F. Watson.—Thanksgiving services were held at Christian church Thursday by the pastor, Eld. L. N. Bowling.

MRS. P. O. STUCKELL TELLS HOW SHE CURED HER SON OF A COLD.

"When my son Ellis was sick with a cold last winter I gave him Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It helped him at once and quickly broke up his cold," writes Mrs. P. O. Stuckell, Homer City, Pa. This remedy has been in use for many years. Its good qualities have been fully proven by many thousands of people. It is pleasant and safe to take.

Uncle Jack Metzger Tells His Impression of Mt. Vernon.

TO THE EDITOR

MT. VERNON SIGNAL:
When I stepped off the train in your beautiful town on the last day of April, to work on the Dixie Highway, from the libelous and slanderous articles I had read about the Mountain people, I expected to see, every man a walking arsenal, with a chip on his shoulder looking for a scrap, but to my surprise I met the most peaceable, most hospitable, most obliging people it has been my fortune to come in contact with. Surrounded by nine hills, sentries created by nature to guard as beautiful a town as can be found anywhere, fine homes, fine schools, fine churches, clean streets, up-to-date business houses, fine looking men, last but not least, beautiful women. What puzzles me is, with all these resources, you do not prosper more than you do?

Will never forget my first trip out the new road, Mr. Durrett and myself in a jolt wagon. He handed me the rope attached to the brake, saying, "Pull hard, Jack." When I saw the cuts and fills, believe me "pull hard I did," for I expected to go over the embankments every moment. But as "familiarity breeds contempt," so subsequent trips robbed the terrors from the first and I began to observe.

May, with its flowers and budding trees, here and there a farm house with adjacent barns, new plowed fields, horses, cows and sheep, grazing in meadows, all this met my gaze on my second trip on the road.

Coming around the curve at Green Fish's, looking toward Renfro creek bridge, the road winding around hill and dale like a serpent is a beautiful sight. Turning the curve after leaving Renfro creek, winding and climbing up the grade until you cross the old road, then down hill until you come to the horse shoe bend, then slowly climbing the hill, until you reach Mt. Vernon, is one of the most scenic and beautiful roads in the State of Kentucky, and you folks can point with pride to the Dixie Highway to all who visit you.

Recalling the many favors extended me by Rockcastle County people in my too brief sojourn among them, will say in all my association with people in many different states in the union, none have excelled, few equaled them in hospitality.

God bless you all is the sincere wish of

UNCLE JACK.

This Difference

"Well, George," said the president of the company to old George, "how goes it?"

"Fair to middlin', sir," George answered as he continued to curry the old horse. "Me an' this here hoss," George said, "has worked for your firm sixteen years."

"Well, well," said the president, "I suppose you are both pretty well thought of."

"H'm," said George, "the both of us was took sick last week, and they got a doctor for the hoss, but they just docked my pay!"

George oughtn't to complain. The company paid him each day for his work. They fed the horse every day for his work. The horse knew nothing and could do nothing but eat his oats as they were given him. He had no way to prepare for the future.

But it was different with George. He had the advantage of mind—the advantage of laying away each day for sixteen years a little bit to take care of him when he was sick or laid off.
